An individual that ~~is~~ shaped the world. There are lots of people on the planet and everyone influence on everyone. We create our life stories doing it. But how we create history? Few ways are exist.

Firstly, history is a life story of humanity. Learning it we can know about how people lived earlier and what they did. Secondly, history is events that changed people's lives, habits and rules. This was is not as natural as the first one so it requires a person who will start and control the process. For example, Napoleon. He made a strong country from littel¹⁰⁰ group of towns.

However, not only kings can change the people's minds. Joane Rowling wrote a series of books about Harry Potter. These books have a strong impact on humanity. They made up kind, friendly, honest.

I think that books, films and TV programs have an impact on people. They change us a ~~lot~~ lot.
